

TRENDING TODAY

Bi-weekly
eNewsletter

12.28.2019

Author: Joseph Eschleman, CIMA® President

THE TOP 5 THINGS WE WILL NOT DO IN 2022!

info@towerpointwealth.com

Twitter: @twrpointwealth

TOWERPOINT
WEALTH

1.916.405.9140

500 Capitol Mall, Ste.1060 | Sacramento, CA, 95814

The Top 5 Things We Will NOT Do in 2022! - 12.28.2021

If your inbox looks anything like ours right now, the last thing you need is a generic 2021 recap or a run-of-the-mill outlook for 2022!

Now Available: 2022 Outlook & Themes to Watch pages/FooterImage1?elq=fa6c82604ef245e2847be6d18813e89&amp;siteid=1346786309&gt;	Mon 12/27/2021 6:05 AM
The Top HNW Stories of 2021	Mon 12/27/2021 10:33 AM
Your 2021 Year in Review has arrived!	Mon 12/27/2021 10:00 AM
Our top 10 most popular market commentaries of 2021	Mon 12/27/2021 9:02 AM
2021 in Review: Celebrating the Community We Built With You	Sun 12/26/2021 11:04 AM

Never inclined to jump on a bandwagon, we'd like to offer you something a bit different, and with that being said, here is what we at Towerpoint Wealth will NOT do in 2022:

1. We will NOT glean our news from TV nor from social media

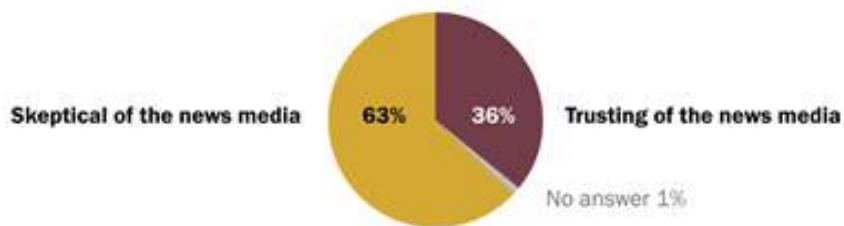

It takes a herculean effort to source truly objective and reliable news nowadays. And unfortunately, for the most part, stories we see and hear on TV do have some sort of slant or bias, that even extends to the numbers and statistics presented. Everything feels politicized, and it can be extremely difficult to separate fact from fiction, and/or opinion from objectivity.

Are you skeptical or trusting of the news media?

Most Americans think skepticism of the news media is good for society

% of U.S. adults who say that, ideally, it's better for society if the American public is ...

Source: Survey of U.S. adults conducted Feb. 18-March 2, 2020.

Pew Research Center

It obviously is important to recognize that news is negative by design, and that impressions and clicks are fast replacing television Nielsen ratings. And understanding that the fight for eyeballs (and concurrently, advertising revenue) is as intense as ever, negative stories have always sold.

What to do? Read the news, don't watch it on TV. If you are liberal, read conservative sources. And if you are conservative, read liberal sources. Put differently, understand that completely unbiased reporting is challenging even for the most seasoned journalists; look for the whole picture, be mindful of having a "deep bench" of diverse and well-rounded news sources (click HERE for a good head start), and do not become pigeon-holed into only reading stories that feel right and feed into your belief system.

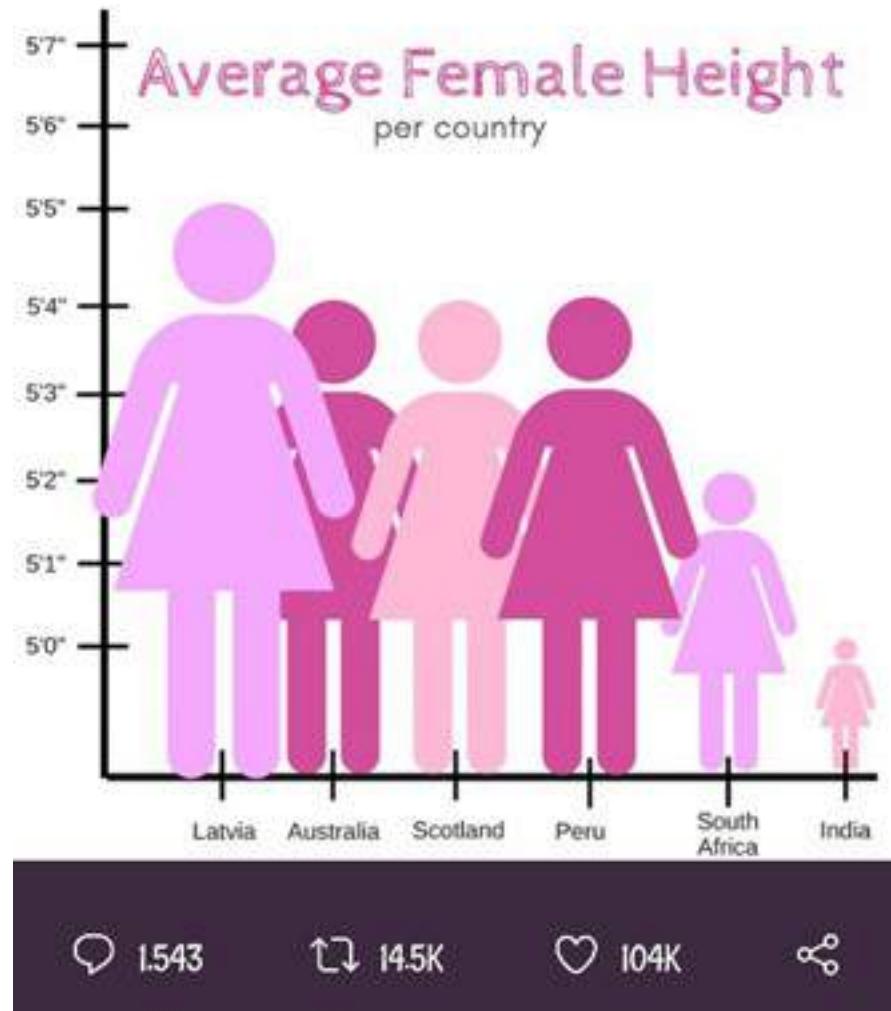

We value the importance of having convictions and opinions, but be disciplined enough to have opinions that are formulated from a solid foundation of quality information and sources. Read carefully, and trust cautiously.

2. We, and our clients, will NOT be misled by "lonely numbers"

"The world cannot be understood without numbers. But the world cannot be understood with numbers alone."

-Hans Rosling, Factfulness

Numbers and statistics can appear to offer support or even hard proof about a particular issue. However, without a larger context, they can be meaningless or even misleading. The world of wealth management, investing, and economics is awash in numbers and statistics, and we will continue to be mindful and think hard about how to help our clients appropriately interpret and find meaning in them.

Additionally, our clients expect us to be statistically literate, and we acknowledge and embrace the fact that part of our job is to figure out exactly what story the numbers tell, and why it matters. Data is an important tool for allocating capital, developing strategy, and making tactical decisions as circumstances change and evolve, but incomplete or incorrect data can muddy the waters and create a false sense of safety and a false sense of urgency (see number 3 below).

Click HERE and HERE to review two excellent sources about misleading graphs.

3. We will NOT lose perspective during this, or the next, crisis

Use of the word “crisis” in news stories may be at an all-time high, with reported crises involving: child-care, college dropouts, immigration, the climate, Sudan, homelessness, rural healthcare, Scandinavian money laundering, avocados, the automotive industry, Iran, Moldova, Pakistan, Israeli bacon, Trump's reelection prospects, and Canadian national unity.

The pattern of crisis and recovery

All too often, a crisis can lead to fear as public perceptions become overly pessimistic. Financial markets that are usually rational can behave irrationally. But the U.S. stock market has proven remarkably resilient; it routinely has recovered from short-term crisis events to move higher over longer time periods.

The graph below shows a hypothetical investment in the S&P 500 Index, which represents some of the largest companies in the U.S. stock market from across all sectors of the economy. In spite of recessions, wars, and other crises, the annualized return over the past 80 years was 11.47%.

By staying invested during crises — or by investing during a crisis to take advantage of stock market valuations — investors can keep their portfolios on track in pursuit of their long-term goals.

Stocks have overcome short-term events to move higher

Growth of $10,000 in the S&P 500 Index (12/31/1940–12/31/2020)

Average annualized return: 11.47%

Plotted on a logarithmic scale so that comparable percentage changes appear similar.

This graph represents a hypothetical $10,000 investment in the S&P 500 Index, an unmanaged index of common stock performance. You cannot invest directly in an index. Indexes do not have sales charges and do not represent the performance of any Putnam fund or product. Past performance does not indicate future results, and prior markets may not be duplicated. Systematic or continued investing does not assure a profit or protect against loss. You should consider your ability to continue investing during periods of low price levels. The time horizon shown here is longer than that of most investors.

For informational purposes only. Not an investment recommendation.

All funds involve risk, including the loss of principal.

Request a prospectus, or a summary prospectus if available, from your financial representative or by calling Putnam at 1-800-225-1581. The prospectus includes investment objectives, risks, fees, expenses, and other information that you should read and consider carefully before investing.

Putnam Investments | 100 Federal Street | Boston, MA 02110 | putnam.com

Putnam Retail Management

11511 324259 2/21

At Towerpoint Wealth, we are attuned to reports, numbers and statistics, but never are we reactionary to the hour-by-hour developments in the economy and financial markets. In the case of a reported crisis, we encourage you to follow our lead. Take a deep breath before hitting the panic button, and try to consider a larger context. There is always a broader, longer-term narrative with every news story.

4. We will NOT take outsized risks in pursuit of outlandish growth

While we faithfully execute on the customized plans we establish in tandem with our clients to compound and grow their net worth and assets, we recognize that protecting that net worth is just as important as aggressively growing it and will only take calculated and justified risks.

The math behind “making up” for investment declines speaks for itself:

If Your Investment Declines ...	To Get Back to Break-Even, You'll Need a Gain of ...
-10%	11.1%
-20	25.0
-30	42.9
-40	66.7
-50	100.0

If you suffer a 50% loss, you will need to DOUBLE your money to get back to break-even!

We are also quite mindful of the following:

The only thing people hate more than losing money is the person who lost it for them.

5. We will NOT lose confidence in the longer-term health of our country, our society, our government, the American economy and the American dream.

Some argue that the American Dream has become a nightmare. We vehemently disagree. No matter who we are or where we're from or what we look like or who we love, the American Dream excludes no one. Our core values as a nation are not Republican nor Democrat, not conservative nor liberal, they are American ideologies. And as we head into 2022, we believe that Julian Castro's quote sums it up well:

In the end, the American dream is not a sprint, or even a marathon, but a relay.

Our families don't always cross the finish line in the span of one generation. But each generation passes on to the next the fruits of their labor.

— Julian Castro —

AZ QUOTES

What's Happening at TPW?

A rare photo of the Grinch (aka our Director of Operations, Lori Heppner), sneaking around on Christmas Day!

Our Director of Research and Analytics, Nathan Billigmeier, took his son Ethan to his first Sacramento Kings game last week at the Golden1 Center. The Kings didn't win, but both dad and son had a great time!

Don and Beth Parvin, two important Towerpoint Wealth clients, were in the office for a review meeting last week, and gifted a sweet throwback Christian Brothers High School winter jacket to our President, Joseph Eschleman, which, though our offices are heated, he just had to try on.

Happy Holidays, Don and Beth – thank you for your generosity!

TPW News You Can Use

Useful and interesting content we read the past two weeks:

1. **I Got COVID Three Times** – BuzzFeed News – 12.23.2021 – Yes, you can get COVID twice, and even more. While this situation is incredibly rare, this is a story of a person who was directly exposed to the virus (or parts of it that trigger an immune reaction), five times. “My antibodies should be as jacked as an Instagram bodybuilder. But apparently, they’re not...”
2. **A-Rod Building Business Empire After Controversial MLB Career** – BNNBloomberg – 12.23.2021 – Alex Rodriguez had one of the most successful – and controversial – careers in Major League Baseball history. Now eligible for the Hall of Fame, the baseball world continues to weigh his lofty achievements against his sins. However, his goals in business have been as lofty as his athletic endeavors, and his ambitions are accelerating.
3. **Will Apple or Microsoft Hit \$3 Trillion Next Year? 10 Tech Predictions for 2022** – SeekingAlpha – 12.24.2021 – Wall Street has started its annual “look-ahead” predictions for 2022, with Wedbush Securities Dan Ives predicting big growth in the NASDAQ, the metaverse, cybersecurity spending, and the cloud, along with a moderation in the microchip shortage.

Chart/Infographic of the Week

A great legend at Merrill Lynch for several decades, **Bob Farrell** had a front-row seat to the go-go markets of the late ‘60’s, mid ‘80’s, and late ‘90’s, as well as the brutal bear market of ‘73-‘74, and also the October of ‘87 crash. He was a pioneer in investor sentiment studies and market psychology, and perhaps was most famous for his Ten Rules for Investing, which are still passed around on Wall Street today:

1. Markets tend to return to the mean over time
2. Excesses in one direction will lead to an opposite excess in the other direction
3. There are no new eras — excesses are never permanent
4. Exponential rapidly rising or falling markets usually go further than you think, but they do not correct by going sideways
5. The public buys the most at the top and the least at the bottom
6. Fear and greed are stronger than long-term resolve
7. Markets are strongest when they are broad and weakest when they narrow to a handful of blue-chip names
8. Bear markets have three stages — sharp down, reflexive rebound and a drawn-out fundamental downtrend
9. When all the experts and forecasts agree — something else is going to happen
10. Bull markets are more fun than bear markets

Quote of the Week

Having a strong disdain for the scientific pretensions and formal apparatus of modern economics, and despite his Harvard professorship, John Kenneth Galbraith was never really an economist in the ordinary sense. He believed that the math and numbers-crunching missed the point, and was a full believer in being careful not to fall prey to paralysis by analysis.

Economics is extremely useful as a form of employment for economists.

— John Kenneth Galbraith —

AZ QUOTES

Trending Today

As the 24/7 news cycle churns, twists, and turns, a number of trending and notable events have occurred over the past few weeks:

- West Virginia Senator Joe Manchin stops President Biden's *Build Back Better* plan in its tracks, and is also invited by Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell to join the GOP
- The USFDA authorizes Pfizer's new pill to treat COVID-19, following the end-of-November approval of Merck's antiviral COVID-19 drug
- Bloomberg reports that South Africans contracting the omicron variant of COVID-19 are 80% less likely to be hospitalized, according to a study released by the National Institute for Communicable Diseases
- NHL players will not be participating in the 2022 Beijing Olympics due to the recent spread of COVID-19
- Teens build bus stop shelter for 5-year-old wheelchair user, protecting him from harsh weather
- Sacramento's New Year's Eve Sky Spectacular will take place in Old Sacramento, with fireworks set for 9:00PM PST
- The CDC shortens COVID-19 quarantine time
- Anthony Fauci says that a domestic travel vaccination rule should be considered

As always, we sincerely value our relationships and partnerships with each of you, as well as your trust and confidence in us here at Towerpoint Wealth. We encourage you to reach out to us at any time (916-405-9140, info@towerpointwealth.com) with any questions, concerns, or needs you may have. The world continues to be an extremely unsettled and complicated place, and we are here to help you properly plan for and make sense of it.

- Lori, Jonathan, Nathan, Michelle, Steve, and Joseph

We love social media, and are always actively growing our social media community!

Follow us on any of these platforms you use, and then message us with your favorite charity, and we will happily donate $10 to it!

Click HERE to follow TPW on LinkedIn

Click HERE to follow TPW on Facebook

Click HERE to follow TPW on Instagram

Click HERE to follow TPW on Twitter

Towerpoint Wealth, LLC is a Registered Investment Adviser. This material is solely for informational purposes. Advisory services are only offered to clients or prospective clients where Towerpoint Wealth, LLC and its representatives are properly licensed or exempt from licensure. Past performance is no guarantee of future returns. Investing involves risk and possible loss of principal capital. No advice may be rendered by Towerpoint Wealth, LLC unless a client service agreement is in place